ffa Opens New Houston Office

ffa, a world-leading provider of 3D Seismic Analysis Software and Services to the oil and gas industry, has established new office premises in Houston. In alignment with the company's continuous growth plans, the new office will let ffa capitalize on growing market opportunities and strengthen their coverage and support for clients in North America. The Houston office will provide both sales and technical support and acts as ffa's services base in North America.

Jonathan Henderson, ffa's Managing Director said, "The opening of our Houston office is a major milestone in the development of ffa. ffa has grown on the basis of providing leading edge technology, the highest levels of integrity and very responsive customer support. An office in Houston is important in helping us maintain these high standards with our growing US client base. ffa believes that the opportunities for the Company in North and South America are enormous and the new office will give us the base from which we can start to develop those opportunities."

The new office is located in a brand new complex Houston's Energy Corridor and will be operational from early 2009. For further information, contact ffa at info@ffa.co.uk.
